Motion / Graphic Designer

About me

I’m Elene — but most know me as EL. A self-taught motion designer and visual storyteller with a background in digital marketing, I specialize in turning ideas into emotionally resonant visuals.

Since 2017, I’ve worked across agencies, startups, and freelance projects, building campaigns that live across social media, digital platforms, and TV. Currently at Triple A, I create motion ads for tech leaders like GESKE and Satisfyer, where I lead content creation from storyboard to screen.

With a passion for design that connects and visuals that move, I bring a mix of hands-on craft, team leadership, and creative strategy — always aiming for impact and originality.

Experience

Triple A
Satisfyer / Geske
Motion Designer
2025-Current

As part of the in-house creative team, I worked on motion design and advertising campaigns for globally recognized beauty tech brands such as GESKE and Satisfyer. My responsibilities included developing storyboards, crafting high-impact animations for social media, and producing full-scale video content for international TV ads.

I managed a small team of designers, ensured alignment with brand guidelines, and collaborated closely with marketing, product, and development departments. From concept to final execution, I oversaw creative workflows, content planning, and visual storytelling that met both performance and aesthetic goals.

Tetragon

Led the design and implementation of multi-channel campaigns, enhancing brand presence and audience engagement.

Managed content calendars, performance analytics, and strategic direction across platforms like Instagram, Facebook, and LinkedIn.

Collaborated with designers and copywriters to craft compelling narratives and high-performing visuals.

Digital Bus |
Growth Hunters
Digital creator
2021–2023

Managed end-to-end creative projects, from concept to execution, ensuring timely delivery and client satisfaction.

Oversaw visual direction and brand consistency across all content.

Created performance-driven campaigns with a focus on user engagement and growth.

Designed and animated graphics for marketing and promotional assets.

Freelancer
2023– Present

Worked independently across a range of creative disciplines, producing motion graphics, branding assets, promo videos, and digital content for clients in various industries.

Specialized in visual storytelling — from concept to final animation — with a strong focus on mood, detail, and emotional impact.

Also provided photography, videography, and post-production services, as well as original music and sound design for select multimedia projects.

Education

ABC of Graphic Design

CES

2020–2022

An intensive, practice-based program focused on the foundations of graphic design. The course covered visual composition, typography, branding, color theory, and Adobe Creative Suite tools.

Throughout the program, I developed a strong design mindset and built a portfolio of real-world projects — from logo design to promotional materials — under the guidance of industry professionals. CES fostered both my creative confidence and technical fluency, shaping my transition into a visual design career.

GIPA

Bachelor's degree in Economics

2012–2016

Studied economic theory, policy, and strategic thinking in a program that emphasized critical analysis, communication, and interdisciplinary skills.

GIPA's creative and open academic environment helped me develop a strong foundation in research, presentation, and problem-solving — skills that continue to support my creative and managerial work today.
